

AT TINTIC IRON MINE

Search for the Ore Bodies Will Now Commence.

WATCHED WITH INTEREST

CROSS-CUTS FROM 300 AND 500 LEVELS.

Mr. Weir Sanguine of Encountering Mineral On the Lower Level—Buckeye to Be Worked Again—Shaft Pumped Out and to Be Sunk Deeper.

(Special Correspondence.)

Robinson, Dec. 17.—Just before taking the train for the city yesterday Thomas Weir explained conditions as they exist at the Tintic Iron mine. He said that much time had been consumed in putting in the guides for the new cage, reaching from the shaft house floor to the 500 level, also chairs at the collar of the shaft and at the 500 level—but that such necessities were practically completed yesterday, and that inside of forty-eight hours cross-cutting would commence from the 300 and 500 levels. Speaking of the likelihood of finding ore, Mr. Weir said that he did not entertain any serious hopes of disclosing favorable results on the 500 level, though of course it is highly probable that he is sanguine of encountering mineral on the 400. For the present nothing will be done on the 400 because the change of ground from the 300 to the 400, and again from the 400 to the 500, will not be so material, but that the two prospective drifts will determine the value of the ore. Mr. Weir said that the drifts will be worked, exploring work in the Tintic Iron will be watched with more than ordinary interest during the coming month. There is really no way of accurately estimating the good that would come to this entire district, if great bodies of ore should be uncovered in this marvelous iron producer. As Mr. Weir said, they will be worked, and if they don't fine ore it will be because it does not exist in extensive chunks.

BUCKEYE TO BE WORKED.

Sinking On Shaft Will Be Resumed This Week.

(Special Correspondence.)

Diamond, Dec. 17.—Once more the chances appear favorable for the old Buckeye mine to be opened and worked. Recently H. W. Sappington concluded a contract with the Bingham Copper Company, under which the shaft, tunnel and drifts of water and sink an additional 100 feet in the perpendicular shaft. Mr. Roberts has succeeded in lifting all the water, and will by Tuesday morning have the shaft in such a condition that the Bingham Copper Company will be able to pump out the water. Conditions are made more favorable for the Buckeye because of the continuous working and pumping in the New Klondike company, adjoining the Buckeye on the north, which materially aids in draining the workings of the latter. If an intelligent and experienced manager is put in charge of the Buckeye affairs, with power to pursue a continuous and aggressive development campaign, the future of this property is as sure to be bright as that of 2 and 3 make 4.

AMALGAMATED COPPER CO.

Practically In Control of One-fourth of World's Production.

The Wall Street Journal of Thursday has the following regarding the operations of the Amalgamated Copper Company and the percentage of the world's production, which it represents:

"Lieutenant Governor A. E. Springs of Montana, says that one-third of the world's annual production of copper comes from the state district of Montana. One-half of that district is controlled by the Amalgamated Copper Company, and within the next six months they will be in control of mines that produce three-fourths of the output. The delay in acquiring these mines is due to the fact that they are in litigation. The acquisition of these mines will thus give the Amalgamated Copper Company control of one-fourth of the world's annual production of copper. Governor Springs says that the feeling of the people of Montana towards corporations generally and towards the Amalgamated Copper Company in particular, is very friendly. He does not believe that anything can curtail the consumption of copper, and that, if a substitute is found, which is not likely."

THE JUMBO STOPE.

Something About Its Magnitude In the Red Wing Mine.

Foreman Fred Lewis of the Red Wing mine at Bingham is working a force of eighteen men in the great Jumbo stope, which is opening out into gigantic size. Unless a person actually visits this mine the importance of this stope can little be realized. If some one were told that the stope had been explored for a height of fifty feet, a width of fifty and nearly that length, all in ore with no side wall visible, it would seem like an exaggeration. Nevertheless, this is the fact. The chamber from which the ore has been extracted has been securely timbered with heavy square sets. Foreman Lewis is still in the ore, and there is between the present stope and the surface something like 300 feet. As the raise continues there are no signs of the ore giving out, but, on the contrary, there are indications of more high-grade ore coming in, and Mr. Lewis expects to open into a large body of shipping ore. He says that it is a characteristic of Bingham that the surface very high-grade ore is often found, followed by a stretch of lower grade ore, and a little deeper down the character of the ore improves again. The ore now being extracted from the stope is largely milling rock.

It is the intention of the Red Wing people to start a new tunnel into the mountain about 150 feet below the present one and run it towards the Jumbo stope, when it is planned to raise on the ore to the present workings.

WORKING THE PHOENIX.

Shipment of Five Cars of Ore to Be Sent to Smelter at Once.

Andrew Gebhardt of the Phoenix went out to Bingham yesterday to make an inspection of that promising proposition, and to arrange for a shipment of five cars of ore, which will be sent down to the smelters at once. Mr. Gebhardt says the mine never looked better than it does now, and it is very probable that the working force will be doubled after the 1st of January. At the present rate of extraction, 150 tons a month is the approximate shipments.

In the Phoenix Mr. Gebhardt says there is a good vein of high-grade ore carrying values of 75 per cent in lead, besides a large quantity of milling material.

smelter expert, came down from Great Falls, Mont., yesterday and registered at the Kenyon.

Charles H. Lashbrook came down from Bingham last night.

Re Post, the old Ontario mill man, left the Park Tuesday last for Victor, Colo., where he has accepted a position for the winter.

Iron County Record: James Kennedy is again in Cedar, having just returned from Vanderbilt, Cal., where he was looking after mining properties.

J. W. Duggan, one of the vendors of the Jersey Blue group in Bingham to Connecticut capitalists, came down from the West Mountain district last night.

Charles Voigt will leave for Gold Mountain tomorrow or next day, to look after his mining interests there, and in his return will go out to Deep Creek.

Price Advocate: The Pleasant Valley Coal company is working its mines in this county at full capacity, and would put several hundred more men at work if they could be had. There is also a scarcity of coal miners in Colorado and Wyoming.

Silver City Star: Conditions continue to improve at the Plinio. The south drift, which was a largely increased impregnated with galena, but as yet the vein is too badly mixed to yield shipping ore. The Plinio will strike it in a very near future, seems assured.

Following are the shipments of ore from the Mackintosh sampler for the past week, as reported by the Park Record: Silver King, 1,500,700 pounds; Daily-West, 880,300 pounds; Anchor Consolidated, 300,000 pounds; Apex, 32,000 pounds; Valeo, 17,300 pounds; Wyckoff, 31,500 pounds; total, 2,662,300 pounds.

Mercur Miner: The West Argent, at Stockton, is working a largely increased force of men. The new ore chute recently opened up in the mine is being worked vigorously and a shipment was made this week. The mine is in an excellent physical condition and will report with regular shipments from this time on.

Signal (Ida): A big strike is reported at the Dewey group of mines on the Clearwater. These properties are on the south fork of the Clearwater river, about 2,000 feet above sea level, five miles east of Grandville. Pay ore runs from the grass roots to the lowest level of 100 feet, where the vein is twenty-three feet wide and shows ore similar to those of Trail creek.

ELECTIONS IN PORTO RICO.

Proceeding Slowly But Republicans Claim to Have Carried Ponce.

San Juan, P. R., Dec. 12.—The elections in Porto Rico are progressing slowly. The Republicans carried Ponce, on Dec. 9, by about 1,100 majority.

According to the census of 1927, there are over 45,000 voters in the Ponce district, but of that number only 4,466 are eligible to vote, the right of suffrage being limited to tax payers and professional men, about 4,400 of the number going to the polls. The Republicans claim that San Juan will give them a tremendous majority and that the election throughout the island will result in an overwhelming federal defeat. The elections will last for at least two months more, there being still over forty-five towns to vote.

The people are looking forward anxiously to the action of congress on the question of civil government. Many expect that the Porto Rico will be immediately given a system of self-government of the islands, while others take a more conservative view of the subject. The Boletin Mercantil, commenting on the subject, says:

"The form of civil government for Porto Rico will undoubtedly be the one recommended by President McKinley in his message to congress in 1898, with the exception of the highest office, the appointee for which place is not known yet, the appointments will be distributed among the most capable Porto Ricans and Americans."

The call was tendered by the pulpits supply committee, the result of a meeting held on Dec. 7, and Dr. Purvis' letter of acceptance will be voted on at a meeting of the congregation on Wednesday evening next. It is confidently expected that the call will be unanimous.

W. G. Sears Describes Work on the Government Wharf.

PAGO-PAGO OPERATIONS

SEA SERPENT TALES TOLD BY A DIVER.

Slimy Monsters Encountered By the Man Who Works at the Bottom of the Sea—Work on the Wharf Delayed By Many Obstacles—Lazy Natives.

(Special Correspondence.)

Apia, Samoa, Dec. 17.—For a period of two weeks I have been in the immediate vicinity where the great iron wharf and coal sheds are being constructed for Uncle Sam by Mr. Tibbitts, in the noted harbor of Pago-Pago. During this time I have visited the premises twice and was conducted around the grounds by Mr. Hudson, the courteous employee of the government who will be permanently located at this place.

But the wharf is not yet built. Complications are constantly arising, and all probably 1940 will have almost passed before the work is completed. When it was commenced in June last the contractors confidently expected to complete their work by the end of the present year. The numerous draw-backs in the difficulty in locating a sound bottom on which to rest the mammoth iron piles. It was found after placing half the piles in position that the end farthest out to sea was sinking, while test piles driven down farther out revealed the fact that for upwards of 120 feet there was no firm bottom. A thin layer of coral rested on a sandy soil, which would allow the pile to be driven to an unknown depth. The contract work was stopped and the thirty divers, mechanics, etc., packed their trunks preparatory to an early trip home, for it was given out that the wharf could not be built unless other plans were adopted by congress, which action would necessarily take months of red tape proceedings. The prospect of an early return to America greatly pleased the men, who had grown weary of being isolated down in the tropics. Nor was the loneliness of the country the only thing to perplex them. Their work was not steady, while their board had to be paid weekly, so if they kept even on the job they were not getting ahead.

But they were doomed to disappointment, for Captain Tilley of the Abarenda, who has supervision of the work, said they came down to build a wharf and he proposed to see that it was done. Experimental work has been carried on for about ten days under the direction of the government committee of superintendents. Messrs. Chambers and Hudson, who have caused test piles to be driven every rod or two in front of Uncle Sam's possession.

It is probable that they will recommend in their findings, now on the way to Washington, that the wharf be placed in a different location from that originally intended. Meantime the labor on the steel coils will be carried on, work having been ordered commenced at once.

A Diver's Tales.

Some of the men who have grown dissatisfied are returning home. Included in this number is the expert diver, Mr. Martin, whose experience at the bottom of the harbor has been thrilling. He interestingly tells how on different occasions large sea serpents came unaccountably to the surface. He was at work, and how they would stare at him with steadfast eyes until he returned to the surface. He would stand up and show in resisting attack of these monsters if they decided to make a meal of him. He has a number of beautiful corals picked up from the bottom of the sea.

To supplement these men who are leaving, native help may be employed, at least temporarily, although the average Samoan will tax the patience of his employer in his slow pace of working. When the Carlisle Castle arrived in June with the lumber, and again when the Abarenda steamed in, the material for the wharf and sheds, the natives swarmed here and there, and in the end a few were permitted to resume his work. To avoid delay, this was done. It will be seen that union exists among them even when they are not working together.

Under the belief that the revenue in South Africa would necessitate heavy government borrowings, money was decided harder—call money 5 to 5 1/2 per cent, futures 5 1/2 to 6, three months bills 6 1/2 to 6 3/4. The gold situation, however, is improving on the expectation of heavy shipments from the United States, and that the bank will buy German and French coin.

GERMANS SAY TENDER CONSIDERATION IS MISPLACED.

Self-assertive Attitude Is Necessary to Impress Public Opinion in the United States.

Berlin, Dec. 17.—General Buller's defeat at the Tugela river has not affected German stocks. Nevertheless the financial stringency is growing daily and private discount has equalled the official rate since Thursday.

Financial circles are now expecting an advance by the reichsbank any day. Apparently the reichsbank is only awaiting the action of the Bank of England. Because of General Buller's repulse, London exchange is already above the gold point. Only the tacit agreement of the great private banks not to embarrass the reichsbank prevents a large gold export. The gold movement from New York to London, however, is expected to give temporary relief.

Economic industrialists have remained firm because of the situation in the coal and iron centers, where improvement of business continues. The province of Brandenburg will issue a loan of 12,000,000 marks for the construction of subsidiary railroads, and the City of Berlin will build an extensive system of underground railroads.

At a meeting of the Cologne Manufacturers' association yesterday Manager Steller reported upon the recent Philadelphia convention, greatly belittling the importance of the event. He pointed out the appointment of an international committee to investigate the tariff disagreement between the United States and Germany, and said that the Americans are misapprehended. Only a self-assertive attitude on the part of the German nation can impress American public opinion. He must make the Americans realize that we can dispense with them if necessary and we must demand that Germany be treated upon a footing of decent, reasonable reciprocity.

The Hamburg Boerschehalle advises conciliatory measures advocating a reduction in duties on raw materials and less severe inspection of American commodities. It claims, however, that the American treatment of Germany in tariff matters is unfair.

A distinguished member of the diplomatic corps, in the course of a discussion today regarding General Buller's reverse said:

"It means morally far more for Great Britain than the mere loss of battle. Her prestige after the defeat of last week has fallen enormously on the continent, and it will be many years before she will again venture to assume a tone against a great power such as she took in the Fashoda affair."

In view of the fact that the highest court has decided against the Berlin city government regarding the inscription for the monument to those who fell in the revolution of 1848, Emperor William will confront the emperor as burgomaster of Herr Kirschner, who has been waiting a year and a half.

Havana, Dec. 17.—The United States battleship Texas, Captain Sigsbee commanding, has arrived here and Captain Gretna, commander of the navy station, has conferred with Captain Sigsbee with regard to the removal from the Texas of the bodies of the victims of the Maine disaster. The remains will be removed with as little ceremony as possible.

The work of disinterment will begin tomorrow. Each coffin will be placed in a metal casket. The caskets will be removed during the night to the naval wharf where they will be under guard until all is ready for removal to the battleship, which is expected to take place Wednesday night or Thursday at daybreak. The Texas will then leave at once.

Father Childwick will identify the coffins as they are taken from the ground, having a chart showing the exact location of each.

Nine times out of every ten indicate a torpid or inactive liver. A torpid liver induces biliousness, and biliousness, when of a chronic character, induces heart complication. Do not suffer the tortures inflicted by an inactive liver when there is a positive certainty that you can avoid it.

First know your condition. Fig. 1 denotes headaches and dizzy spells; Fig. 2 yellow eyes; Fig. 3 coated tongue and offensive breath; Fig. 4 constipation or distending of heart; Fig. 5 impaired digestion; Fig. 6 pain or soreness in right side. All the above symptoms, also constipation, loss of energy, tired feeling, loss of appetite, indicate liver trouble.

That gradual remedy of nature, "Rudyan," will at once correct the evil, will rid you of all the above symptoms.

Without the correct action of the liver, the bowels become constipated, the blood becomes overloaded with impurities and bile, and this bile is deposited in the various tissues of the body, the skin in particular. Rudyan corrects all this. Through its action upon liver and kidneys, Rudyan purifies the blood.

Rudyan reaches Fig. 1 in its curative influence because it relieves the pressure of brain; Fig. 2 because it diverts the bile from the blood into its proper channels—the intestines; Fig. 3 because it corrects all faults of digestion; Fig. 4 because it tranquilizes the nerves that govern the heart's action; Fig. 5 because it increases the flow of the digestive fluids; Fig. 6 because it strengthens the liver and stimulates it to increased activity.

Rudyan is a positive and permanent cure for all liver disorders. Constipation is at once relieved, the blood is made pure, naturally and is liberated by the weakest of stomachs.

Rudyan is for sale by druggists—50 cents a package or six packages for $2.50.
